★ Themes

A theme is an important idea or concept underlying the action and all the other elements of the play. Themes in this play include a wide range of issues including ones that are personal, social and moral or ethical. Other themes are based on the differences between generations, gender and political beliefs as well as the different circumstances for white and black people in apartheid South Africa.

Themes, plots and characters thoroughly taught and tested

A mind map of key themes in My Children! My Africa!

Model answers provided to check understanding

Number of the themes in My Children! My Africa! involve a tug-of-war between opposites. We are called upon to consider and weigh up both viewpoints and form our own minds. Usually the truth of the matter lies somewhere between the extremes. For example, there are tensions involving opposing poles as follows:

Exam questions provide plenty of practice

Question 1

Read the following extracts from the play and answer the questions set on each. The number of marks allocated to each question serves as a guide to the expected length of your answer.

NOTE: Answer the questions set on BOTH extracts, i.e. QUESTION 1.1 AND QUESTION 1.2.
1.1 EXTRACT A

Mr M: Order please!
Isabel: I never said anything of the kind.
Thami: Yes you did. You said that women were more ...
Mr M: I call you both to order!

Setting

In Fugard's plays the settings are typically bleak, uncomfortable places where two or three characters linked together by some bond, such as friendship or family, play out a tense human drama. My Children! My Africa! is no exception. The opening scene is set in a bare, matric classroom at the Zolile High School in a location called Brakwater. The setting for the play is a small Eastern Cape Karoo town. The town's name, Camdeboo, is invented but it could be somewhere like Graaff-Reinet.

Isabel describes the location as an eyre with potholed stony tracks, shacks made of bits of old corrugated iron, and with dust and rubbish flying around in the wind. She describes the classroom as bleak, dingy and depressing. Everything, including cement floor, walls and ceiling is grey. The location and classroom are deliberately contrasted with the pretty town of Camdeboo with its
